Each document follows a definite flow pattern from the time it is originated or received to the time of final disposal or destruction. This diagram describes the various paths the paper documents or files may take.